

VICTOR MULIYIL - PROFESSIONAL PROFILE - 2016

Victor Muliyl is the Food Technical Program Manager, SGS North America, the primary technical contact for human and animal food safety training and audit programs, including GFSI approved schemes, HACCP certification, second party schemes and ISO 22000. Victor is an accredited multi-sector food safety management program lead auditor and trainer. Victor is responsible for development and upgrading of SGS food safety training courses, audit procedures and audit team technical management. He has over 30 years of experience in food safety management system development, training, implementation and auditing, laboratory management and quality assurance management. Victor holds degrees in Biochemistry, Microbiology and Food Science from the University of Toronto, as well as further certification in thermal processing, HACCP and advanced training techniques.